OBREGON ASSUMES PRESIDENCY DEC. 1

Mexican Leader Announces Policy On Eve Of His Inauguration

Mexico City, Nov. 30.—"Mexico will not ask admission to the League of Nations, but should an invitation to membership be extended by the league, it would be given consideration."

This declaration was made by General Obregon, president-elect of the republic, in an interview today with the Associated Press during which he discussed various problems that will demand his attention when he assumes the presidency at midnight tonight.

Gen. Obregon said he was certain that the provisional government under President de la Huerta had not requested such membership, and it was the intention of his government to continue this policy of aloofness, his attitude being that Mexico in making overtures for membership in the league would engage in a humiliating act entirely inconsistent with its traditional national pride. The correspondent was received in General Obregon's home adjacent to Chapultepec Castle, the presidential residence, where for several weeks the president-elect because of a slight indisposition has conducted his affairs. General Obregon, who is in the best of health now, prefaced his discussion of Mexican problems with an expression of gratitude for the courtesy shown him by the hundreds of American visitors who are in Mexico City for his inauguration.

"It indicates a better feeling between the two countries, which will continue to grow," he said.

Appreciates Difficulties.

Petroleum regulations, the labor situation, radicalism and his proposed legislative projects were discussed.

"The great problem I face as the next Mexican executive is that of general reconstruction," he declared. "I have reflected my attitude toward various problems in a series of projects which I have already submitted to Congress for consideration.

"Of first interest to Americans, of course, is the oil problem and in this connection I might say that Articles XIV and XXVII will not be abrogated. But I am sure that within a short time a commission will be appointed to regulate the application of these articles.

"I do not intend to make any recommendations to Congress regarding petroleum matters beyond urging that the commission be established and that all parties concerned be given fair and just treatment. I feel certain that this problem ultimately will be settled to the entire satisfaction of all concerned."

Asked what he considered the most significant results accomplished by the new Mexican government, which retires tonight, General Obregon answered that undoubtedly its greatest work was the pacification of the republic, which he added "is a sequence to the revolutionary movement of last summer."

The institution of economical methods in public administration, which has resulted in the equalization of the national budget and an approach to financial stability, was cited by the President-elect as another significant result.

"One of Mexico's greatest problems at present is that of labor," said General Obregon. "I am positive that radicalism here is not so widespread that it constitutes a menace to the peace of Mexico. However, I do recognize that the workers have a right to fight for the betterment of their conditions and my government will lend all possible aid to secure such betterment if the workers act within the law and order."

The President-elect recently submitted to Congress a law which contemplates a system of pensions and insurance policies for employees who have grown old in service or who have become disabled as a result of their work. Certain wage increases are also proposed by the law.

Opposes Tyranny.
Discussing another project recently submitted to Congress, in which he wishes to increase the responsibilities of the President and his aides, General Obregon declared that the Constitution of 1917 delivered too much power to the chief executive without providing sufficient responsibilities, and that it was the exercise of these almost tyrannical powers by Carranza that led to the revolution against him. The proposed law would make the President subject to trial if he in any way restrained the liberties of voters or attempted to prejudice elections, either federal or state; if he exerted pressure upon Congress or the Supreme Court to influence their actions; if he attacked the sovereignty of any state; if he were a party to the formal administration of public funds or concluded treaties with foreign powers without the consent of Congress.

The various members of the cabinet would be made equally liable for not opposing the chief executive in such illegalities.

"I take the oath of office with the profound feeling that I have an immense task before me," concluded the President-elect. "I shall strive to administer my office with due regard to justice for all abiding by the law and the constitution. With the cooperation of the country at large I hope to see unbroken peace and the prosperity of my country."

MRS. L. C. MORTON

DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. L. C. Morton died at her home in Centertown, Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock, of heart failure, after having retired the night before in her apparent usual good health. Funeral services conducted by Rev. J. J. Willett were held at the Centertown Baptist Church, Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, after which the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at that place.

Mrs. Morton was a splendid type of high-class womanhood and will be greatly missed in her community. Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. J. L. Smith and a son, E. M. Morton, both of Centertown. There also survives Mrs. Morton, one sister, Mrs. Laura Morton, Livermore, also three brothers, Curtis Rowe, of Benton, Ponza Rowe, of Bowling Green and Alvin Rowe, of Centertown.

Those attending the funeral from out of the community were as follows: Mrs. Henry Hocker, Owensboro; Rev. J. A. Bennett and Mrs. Rex O'Flynn, Utica; Mrs. T. R. Barnard, Island; Mrs. Katie Robertson, Moorman; Mr. and Mrs. John Bell, Miss Margaret Marks, Mr. J. C. Riley, Dr. J. R. Pirtle, C. O. Hunter, Lewis Fulkerson and Joe C. Bennett, of Hartford and Mrs. Margaret Hatfield, Livia.

HARTFORD GIRLS LOSE

WHILE BOYS TAKE ONE

The Hartford High School Girls Journeyed to Caneyville last Saturday, where they dropped a one-sided basket ball game to the Federal High Girls' Quintette, of that place, by the score of 24 to 14. The game was played on an out-door court, and being altogether new to the Hartford team, was perhaps quite a handicap, although that fact is not offered as an alibi. The girls report a most pleasant time and their treatment at the hands of both players and spectators was most courteous and hospitable, while in the metropolis on the upper waters of the Caney.

Those making the trip were Helen Barnett, Amelia Pirtle, Kittie Bess Dodson, Loubel Williams, Emily Pendleton, Bessie Clark and Margaret King, the later two substitutes. Accompanying the team were Miss Martha Stevenson, James Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hunter.

The High School Boys' Team, with a number of other students, accompanied by Prof. Roy Foreman went to Owensboro last Friday, to attend a conference of High School Boys and while there played a mixed High School and Y. M. C. A. Team of that place, when the Hartford Boys copped by the score of 34 to 20.

MRS. DELILAH STEWART

Mrs. Delilah Stewart, widow of Richard Stewart, died at the home of her grandson, Cal Moseley, Nortonville, Sunday, being only 10 days short of 77 years of age. The remains were brought to this place and interred in Oakwood Cemetery, Monday afternoon. Brief services were conducted by Rev. R. T. Harper, at the cemetery.

CLAIMS MARINES WERE TORTURED

Gendarmerie Officers State Haitian Outlaws Mutilated Yanks.

Port Au Prince Haiti, Nov. 30.—The naval court of inquiry investigating the actions of the American Marines concluded its hearing in Haiti today, with the exception of Lieut. Col. Hooker, of the gendarmerie, who testified to the effect that 2,000 peaceful Haitians had been killed by bandits in the last few years. He declared that from March, 1919 to October, 1919, large farming and settlement areas were completely wiped out by uniformed bandits roaming about under the leadership of desperate chiefs.

Colonel Hooker, in his testimony, gave a startling idea of the methods of the outlaws citing nearly a dozen cases to show how marines and gendarmes captured by bandits were mutilated. He said that in every instance they were decapitated and their vital organs removed and scattered along the trails.

Two marines were burned to death after torture, Colonel Hooker asserted. He testified that a lieutenant had been killed, the heart and liver distributed and eaten, and the brains removed to grease bullets for the bandits' guns. The records, he said, showed that thirty-two gendarme officers were killed.

Dorcas Williams, a sergeant of marines accused of killing Garnier Jean last year, today entered emphatic denial of guilt. He declared Jean's house was midway between the bandits and gendarmes during a battle at Maissade, and hearing that Jean was intimate with the marauders he called him. He testified Jean appeared with a towel around his neck and a blanket about his stomach, showing he had been wounded. Williams asserted Jean was in his office while he (Williams) was patrolling and that he learned upon his return Jean was dead.

Julius Andre, a gendarme lieutenant produced a copy of official letters purported to have been written by the justice of the peace at Maissade saying Jean had been killed during a battle with gendarmes. Two other native witnesses testified they saw Jean in the gendarme's office, but were without evidence to support the charge against Williams.

Admiral Henry T. Mayo, president of the court, announced the hearings would be resumed in Washington.

ORTKIES IS GIVEN

$4,000 IN DAMAGE

The case of —Ortkies against the Broadway Coal Mining Company which has been on the Ohio Circuit Court Docket for some time, the trial of which was completed Tuesday, resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $4,000. Action was based upon a claim for personal injury caused by falling slate in the Company's mine at Simmons. The Company's strongest point and defense in the premises was the fact that it had formerly made a settlement with Ortkies in the payment of $1,000. Inadequate payment and physical and mental inability of the plaintiff at the time, were the chief grounds upon which the suit was won, so it would appear. In all probability the verdict will be appealed from and will likely go to the Court of Appeals.

LODGE SPEECH IRES

JAPANESE PRESS

Tokio, Nov. 30.—The Nichi Nichi today denounces a speech made at the Roosevelt Club in Boston sometime ago by United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, in which Senator Lodge declared that the United States, Australia, Canada and New Zealand should be banded together to retard Asiatic immigration. The newspaper says that one would think the world was created for the white race alone and declares that the Japanese should demand the same rights to migrate as the whites. The American people are characterized by the Nichi Nichi as being more dangerous to the world than the yellow race.

WOMANLESS WEDDING WAS GREAT SUCCESS

The Womanless Wedding staged at the Courthouse Thursday night, November 25, was a huge success from all standpoints. Our former prediction as to acting abilities of the various individuals taking a part, was more than fulfilled.

The men who were disguised as members of the so-called fairer sex, in many cases had it all-over their wives, (this is not for their wives) in many respects, for instance, take Kelley Riley, Mut Hunter and even Rol Riley, they appeared so much more portly than their better halves, not to mention many others. The costumes worn by the great majority were dazzling in splendor. Fine silks, dainty ribbons and bewitching yellow curls were much in evidence, as was paint, powder and rouge. Really it was exceedingly difficult for the audience to recognize many of the troupe, and all who attended were loud in their praise of the whole affair. Two performances were given, owing to the numbers attending. The Courtroom was packed for the first performance, yet not filled to the discomfort of the audience, as the doors were closed when it was seen that not all could be accommodated. At the second performance the house was about three-fourths filled.

While all of those who had a part in the entertainment, directly, as actors therein, were males, yet the management of the affair was entirely in the hands of Ladies, members of the Parent-Teacher Association and due to their untiring efforts the net sum of $180.00, was turned into the treasury of the association.

PENDLETON—WOOTEN

Miss Mary Laura Pendleton and Mr. Goodell Wooten were joined in wedlock last Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the home of the bride's father, on Union Street. Rev. Russell Walker performed the ceremony binding the nuptial knot, in the presence of only a few immediate friends of the parties.

The bride is the accomplished and pleasant daughter of Dr. Eugene B. Pendleton, of this city, and at the date of her marriage was an esteemed member of the faculty of the local Graded and High School. Mr. Wooten is the son of Mrs. M. M. McCormick, residing near Hartford, and an industrious and progressive farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Wooten left at once for Louisville, Nashville, Chattanooga and other points, where they are to spend several days with relatives and friends. As they row their bark o'er the sea of life, on the voyage lying out and beyond, they possess the best wishes of their friends, numbered by those who know them.

DOUBLE WEDDING

TAKES PLACE HERE

Mr. Owen C. Sandefur, of Beaver Dam and Miss Audrey Z. Brown, of Cool Springs, Mr. Heavrin Brown, of Cool Springs and Miss Effie Fulkerson, of Pond Run, came to Hartford Wednesday, procured marriage license, and went to the home of Rev. R. E. Fuqua, on Frederica Street, where Rev. Fuqua performed the ceremony uniting the two couples in wedded bliss. Miss Sallye Emma Carden rendered the wedding march. The families of Mr. Garfield Barnard, C. B. Carden, together with Rev. Fuqua's were witnesses to the wedding.

Mr. Sandefur is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Sandefur, of Cool Springs, who formerly resided in Hartford, while his bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown, also of Cool Springs. Mr. Brown, the other bridegroom, is a brother to Miss Brown, now Mrs. Sandefur, and the now Mrs. Brown is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Fulkerson, of Pond Run. Each of the newly married people are of excellent character, popular and have the best wishes of a host of friends.

MRS. KATY S. GRANT.

Mrs. Katy Schneider Grant passed away at her home in Centertown, Monday, Nov. 29th, at 11:30 a. m., after an illness of long duration, of spinal affection. Mrs. Grant was 30 years of age and well beloved by her many friends. Funeral services were conducted from the home Wednesday at 12:30 p. m., by Rev. L. W. Tichenor, after which the remains were deposited in the Walton's Creek Cemetery.

ONE-DAY BAZAAR

BROUGHT SUCCESS

The Bazaar conducted by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church, in the Church basement last Tuesday, was a success financially and otherwise. Quite a number of nice and valuable articles were placed on sale and well disposed of. Meals were served at noon and 6 o'clock in the evening. Patronage from citizens of the town and those attending Court was up to expectations. $141.30 was the sum realized from the bazaar.

ELLIOTT—SHULTZ.

On Thursday, Nov. 25, Miss Carrie Elliott and Mr. Geobel J. Shultz, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Elliott, Beaver Dam, Route 4. The bride wore peacock blue tulle, the attendants were Miss Martha Elliott, Memphis, Mr. Earl Taylor, Beaver Dam, Miss Edith Austin, Beaver Dam and Mr. Douglas I. Elliot, Memphis.

The home was decorated in white and green, white chrysanthemums and green plants forming a beautiful background for the ceremony which was performed by Rev. W. G. Wallace, of Rochester.

Immediately following the ceremony dinner was served to the guests which included only the immediate families of the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Shultz left Friday for Detroit, Michigan, where they will reside.

CENTERTOWN MINE

FOREMAN INJURED

Claud Chapman, Mine Foreman for the Rockport Coal Company, at Centertown, was caught under a motor Wednesday, suffering painful injuries. Mr. Chapman was pinned in water, where he was held for five hours before rescued. Barring some sort of complication, the injuries are not deemed of a serious nature and early recovery is expected.

BRADIE PARTON HELD

ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Bradie Parton, a young man of near Askins, this County, was arrested on a charge of rape, upon a warrant issued from the Breckenridge County Court, and conveyed to Hartford Wednesday morning, by Walter Burden, Marshal of Fordville. Parton was placed in jail here and will be conveyed to Hardinsburg today, by Sheriff Bratcher.

A. C. A. IN HANDS OF

RECEIVER, AGENT HERE

The American Cooperative Association, a corporation with the home office in the State of Wisconsin, with branch houses scattered throughout several states has been placed in the hands of a receiver. The local house in charge of S. L. King was visited and closed Tuesday, by Mr. P. W. McAndrews, of Owensboro, who is representative of the Receiver.

It is claimed that the concern has assets of approximately $1,000,000 with liabilities amounting to something like one-fourth of that sum. Even should the concern manage to again get upon its feet it is not thought that the business here is to be reopened, but that the property will be disposed of.

Cadiz, Ky., Nov. 29.—Sparks from a match dropped in a wooden shed where a gasoline engine had been kept, ignited the shed, destroyed the Cadiz Hotel, the Trigg County Court House and swept two entire business blocks of the town, doing approximately $200,000 damage here this afternoon. The match is said to have been dropped by a little negro boy. The volunteer fire department worked from 1:45 o'clock until 5 against a high wind in an effort to subdue the flames. Rain which fell later helped make up for the low pressure in the pipes of the city waterworks, and the cessation of the wind did much to save the other two nearby city blocks. Insurance in the burned district is placed at from $75,000 to $100,000. The county court house was erected at a cost of $40,000.

Business houses destroyed included the Farmers' Bank, the Turner Wilkinson department store, Holloway's men's furnishing store, Boyd's produce store, Hamlin's garage, Adam's restaurant, Hendricks' grocery, Cunningham's livery stable, Parents Sons' produce house, the residence of T. F. McBride and other small buildings and offices. The fire is said to have been the largest in the history of Trigg County.

The Cadiz Bank building was badly damaged, but was not destroyed. All buildings were two stories except the hotel, a three-story structure. County authorities report $25,000 insurance on the court house. The fire was under control at nightfall.

GROVER RENDER.

Grover Render, aged 30 years, died at the home of his brother, Penny Render, at McHenry, Nov. 25, after being ill a considerable length of time, of a complication of rheumatism and erysipelas. Mr. Render was forced to relinquish a position in Detroit, Mich., some time ago on account of poor health, when he returned to his home country.

Burial of the remains took place at Independence, at noon, on the day following his death.

BOARD HELD UP BY WASTE SCANDAL

Senate Will Not O. K. Ap- pointment Of Southern Democrats.

Washington, Nov. 27—Because of revelations of waste on the part of the present Administration of more than $2,000,000,000 in its shipbuilding program, the new Shipping Board appointed by the President will be held up by the Senate until such time as President Harding may name a new and more satisfactory one.

On the board the President has placed Rear Admiral Benson, of Georgia, a Democrat, under whom many of the scandals have occurred, for a term of seven years; Frederick I. Thompson, of Alabama, another Democrat, for a term of five years; Joseph N. Teal, of Oregon, a Democrat, for four years; John A. Donald, of New York, a Democrat, for three years; Chester H. Rowell, of California, a Progressive who is labeled as a Republican, but really supported Cox, for two years; Guy D. Goff, of Wisconsin, also labeled as a Republican, for one year, and Charles Sutter, of Missouri, with the same label, but friendly to the President, for one year.

Pursuant to the President's usual policy throughout his administration, as exemplified in his fixing the price of wheat and not of cotton during the war, the South is highly favored in the naming of the new board. As the Republican Congress will make a thorough housecleaning of the shipping activities of the Government, it is considered here that these newly appointed Southern Democrats are out of luck.

Following are some of the reasons why the Senate will not confirm an administration shipping board:

Thirteen hundred government-built ships are today worth less than one-half of what the government spent to build them.

It cost the government $3,000,000,000 to produce these vessels and their value is today $1,800,000,000 or less.

Losses incurred by the United States Shipping Board, thru the utter collapse of its accounting system, thru inefficiency, thru overcharges, thru amortization and all other causes are estimated at $2,000,000,000 according to Martin J. Gillen, former special executive assistant to John Barton Payne, former chairman.

Hundreds of millions of dollars belonging to the board floated around the country without anyone knowing just where they had gone.

Other hundreds of millions were deposited in banks without any record of their whereabouts.

Many millions were lost in over-payments, in one case amounting to $23,000,000 on a payment of $34,000,000.

One hundred and seventy million dollars was placed in the hands of operators and not a single record was kept of it—not even the names of the operators.

Profits of 57 per cent on the job was allowed to operators for the building of the government ships.

In August 1919, more than $2,500,000,000 had been disbursed thru the Shipping Board and not a record was available to show how this enormous fund had been distributed.

The office of treasurer likewise possessed no record to show where $243,000,000 worth of securities held by the Shipping Board had been deposited, and these subsequently were found in the vaults of a trust company in Philadelphia.

The sum of $623,000 was paid twice for the same work.

One hundred and sixteen thousand loaned to build one plant was used in a different place to build another plant.

The price agreed upon in a contract was increased $143,000 after the contract had been signed and the work started.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The American people hardly could have been surprised by the revelations of millions of their good dollars gone in Shipping Board waste, extravagance and graft. They already knew what billions of dollars it had cost them, under the present business management of their Government, to build cardboard training camps and hospitals. They knew what it had cost them in good cash and in bad service to have that business management operate the railroads. They knew what it had cost them not in millions but in billions of dollars to have that business management make guns that never got to the battle front make powder that never exploded, make flying machines that never rose into the air, make uniforms and shoes that were left to rot in miles and miles of warehouses.

But what must astound the American people is not what slathers of money was consumed by the ton, but how it was consumed under the Shipping Board business management, honest but incompetent, well meaning but extravagant, enthusiastic but blundering.

It was not enough for those handling the public's ships to pay highly inflated skilled wages to day labor that loafed on its job; they must even carry on the pay rolls at fat salaries men who were holding down private jobs hundreds of miles from where they were supposed to be on the Government jobs. It was not enough to pay several prices for provisions; ships' stewards had to throw those supplies overboard so that they could buy more and get new graft commissions on the purchases. It was not enough to let contractors build ships that would not float and install propellers that fell off vessels when they put to sea; they had to pay contractors for taking away partly constructed ships which the contractors then sold at good prices for the benefit of their own pocketbooks. It was not enough to pay $208 for replacing a damaged port light worth $8; they had to feed strawberries to ships crews at 60 cents a quart.

In this and other ways of theft by minor officials, graft by middlemen, or just plain waste all along the line the Government merchant marine as a business proposition was scuttled. This is one of the reasons why the United States Government today owes in round numbers twenty-four billions of dollars. It is one of the reasons why the United States Government has an interest charge on its debts of about a billion dollars a year. It is one of the reasons why the American people have a tax bill of four billions a year. It is one of the reasons why many other billions covered by previous and larger annual tax bills were sunk in a bottomless pit between the spring of 1916 and today. It is one of the reasons why the business management of the United States Government was changed by the American voters last week, and why the business methods of the United States Government, under its new management, will have to change on the 4th day of next March.—New York Herald.

America is without a ceremony befitting Armistice Day. This is perhaps natural; we are not a nation that turns readily to formalities. Yet it will be hoped that another year may witness a growing sense of the solemnity of this day when guns ceased firing after four long years, and that the right services will gradually be developed to be shared by all. Meantime, all eyes turn this morning to those moving ceremonies in Paris and in London. The body of an unknown poilu is to be entombed beneath that arch of victory, the most celebrated of the modern world. And in Westminster Abbey, toward which so many American feet have trod in pilgrimage, the body of an unknown British soldier is to be laid at rest with every military honor.—New York Tribune.

EARTH "GLACIER" BURIES TERMINAL

Large Area Swamped, Pitts- burg Damage Reaches Millions.

By Russ Simonton.
Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 27—A gigantic "land glacier," 2,000 feet from end to end, is sweeping the side of a huge hill across the tracks of one of America's great railway yards and tearing to bits like pasteboard a costly boulevard that links residence and business districts here.

Nothing will stop the slide, says Gen. George W. Goethals, the man who built the Panama Canal and won fame when he checked the Culebra cut slides.

The slide is costing $50,000 a day, and can only be held in check by 1,000 men working with eleven steam shovels, the advancing deluge of mud, clay and rock continues to sweep down the steep slope.

Tracks are Buried.

Within a week of the appearance of the first tiny crack in the asphalt of Bigelow boulevard, cut in the side of a great bluff high above the Pennsylvania Railway yards, millions of cubic yards of earth had flowed to the bottom and covered eight railway tracks and menaced all the yards.

The tracks were under earth from 30 to 150 feet across and covered from 20 to 80 feet deep.

Three hundred feet of boulevard was torn away. A temporary bridge was built over the gap.

Pittsburg officials and the railway engineers were in a panic. They couldn't determine the cause or the remedy. They sent for the canal builder, Gen. George W. Goethals.

Goethals came (at $500 a day), sauntered over the slide, poked it with a stick and laughed.

"Haul It Away."

"Haul away the dirt," said Goethals, "That's all there is to do. It won't stop sliding until it is thru. It is your own fault."

Then he reviewed the ancient history of the catastrophe.

Eighteen years ago Pittsburg built Bigelow boulevard along the edge of the bluff. At one point it had to dump millions of feet of earth to make a fill.

"In the first place," said Goethals, "your slide is because your original fill wasn't properly drained. The water makes the earth heavy and greasy and it just naturally slips. Then, to make matters worse, you recently added more weight with new dirt and of course it came down. Now, all you can do is haul away the dirt until the slide is thru sliding."

Thereupon he left the city of Pittsburg and the Pennsylvania railway to "haul away the dirt."

No one can make a good estimate of the amount of earth yet to descend, but the railway engineers think about 12,500,000 cubic yards—enough to block the entire system. It costs $3 a cubic yard to haul the debris.—Louisville Herald.

SOMETIMES YOU NEED A TONIC

Pepto-Mangan Makes Rich Red Blood And Lifts You Out Of Bad-Health Ruts.

There are days when you feel downright sick. You think you couldn't feel any worse. Yet, as far as you know, there's nothing the matter with you. From the time you get up in the morning till you go to bed at night you are tired. You feel as though you'd like to sit down and do nothing. You look tired and pale and haggard. You get careless about your dress.

No wonder! Your blood is all clogged up with poison. Your power of resistance is at a low ebb. Your blood needs food. It needs the help that the vitalizing tonic, Pepto-Mangan, will give it. Instead of feeling exhausted and tired out for months, you will soon pick right up and feel well and strong again. And with good red blood you are able to fight off ailments.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. It is prepared in both liquid and tablet form, and you can take one or the other and receive the same benefits.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's". Ask for it by the full name and be sure the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package.—Advertisement.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The way Government management does business and keeps books the Panama Canal shows for last year a profit of $2,387,599. But if the United States Government, in behalf of the American people, managed its affairs and figured financial results the way a private corporation, in behalf of its stockholders, has to figure its results and keep its books, the Panama Canal as a business proposition would look like a financial wreck.

As a matter of fact the difference between the operating expenses and the receipts of the Panama Canal—the aforesaid $2,387,599—called by a wild flight of imagination profits, is only a drop in the bucket toward paying the fixed charges on the colossal bonded debt investment of the American people in the Panama Canal.

Including cost of construction, purchase of rights, annual payments to Panama, fortifications, etc., the American people had put into the canal, up to June 30, 1919 more than $459,000,000. With nothing ever earned toward meeting the interest on that debt not to mention payments into the sinking fund to extinguish the debt, the canal stands the American people in today more than half a billion of dollars.

Because of valuable privileges going with the Panama bonds, put out to build and equip the canal, they were issued, some of them at as low an interest rate as 2 per cent a year and some at 3 per cent. Even on this highly artificial basis of figuring interest the so-called profit on the Panama Canal last year was not half enough to meet the abnormally low interest charge on the Panama Canal bonds and other investment. It was not a quarter enough.

The whole gross receipts of the Panama Canal last year—some $8,935,371—even if not a red copper had been deducted for operating expenses, would not have been enough to pay the interest on the Panama Canal debt and other investment of the American people in the gigantic project.

If we figure that any investment should be worth at least the interest which the Government has to pay on Liberty Bonds, and if we figure depreciation at a merely nominal rate, and if we virtually ignore sinking fund charges, the Panama Canal, as a business proposition, ought to earn at the very low rate of 6 per cent to cover everything, not less than $30,000,000 a year. This might by a miracle clean up the debts in the course of generations and keep the balance sheet from being smeared all over with red ink figures. It could not do much more.

Of course, the Panama Canal never was built to make money directly and openly, like a railroad or a factory or a bank or a department store. It was conceived and built by a wise far-seeing statesmanship, and a billion of the American people's money was poured into it to confer a great water transportation benefit upon the commerce of this country, and of the whole wide world. But for anybody to talk of an annual profit of more than two and a third millions of dollars coming out of the canal when the actual loss can be measured anywhere from twenty to forty millions of dollars a year is something of a financial joke.—New York Sun.

Splendid Cough Medicine.

"As I feel that every family should know what a splendid medicine Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is, I am only too pleased to relate my experience and only wish that I had known of its merits years ago," writes Mrs. Clay Fry, Ferguson Station, Mo., "I give it to my children when they show the slightest symptoms of being croupy, and when I have a cough or cold on the lungs a very few doses will relieve me, and by taking it for a few days I soon get rid of the cold."

JAPAN INCREASES ARMY BUDGET 50 PER CENT

Tokio, Nov. 27—The army estimates for the forthcoming year total 245,000,000 yen, an increase of 50 per cent over last year. Of this sum 40,000,000 yen will be expended on new defense schemes.

Service in the cavalry branch of the army will be reduced from three years to two years.

DEMOCRATS SERENADE PRESIDENT WILSON

A peculiar "silent tribute" was given to President Wilson one night shortly following the election. Some 2000 admirers and "forlorn-hopers" gathered and circled round the White House singing "The Star Spangled Banner" and other songs. By "some awful lack of discretion one of the songs they sang was "Carry Me back to ole Virginny." If the president goes back to his birthplace of Virginia he wants to go of his own accord, and not be carried back. These serenaders had about as much tact as the relatives of a sick man in China have who bring a coffin into the sick-room and stand it up so he can look at it.

HUSBAND HAD TO DO THE COOKING

Carey Says Wife Was Even Too Weak To Take Care Of Herself Before Taking Tanlac.

"Yes, sir, Tanlac built my wife right up after everything else failed, and made a new woman of her" said Martin J. Carey, living at 913 Shely street, Youngstown, Ohio, recently. "She had been in wretched health two years before she began taking Tanlac, and had gone down hill till she couldn't do her housework nor even care for the children. Much of the time I'd have to get our meals and get the children ready for school before I started to work, and go away and leave her in bed, too sick to even take care of herself."

"Her stomach and liver were in an awful bad fix; the poison got all thru her system and she suffered all the time. Nothing we did for her seemed to do her any good, and she kept going from bad to worse and getting weaker all the time. She was terribly nervous and slept only a little while at a time and I had to be up with her all hours of the night. "She scarcely had any appetite and what little she did eat didn't agree with her. After eating she would have most distressing pains in her stomach and these would last her hours at a time. It hurt me to see her suffer and not be able to help her."

"When it seemed she would never take a turn to get well we read a Tanlac testimonial that fit her case almost exactly, and I lost no time in buying her a bottle. She had not taken half the first bottle till I saw it was helping her, and I don't know which one of us was the happiest."

"She kept right on getting better, and by the time she had taken four bottles she had gained nine pounds, and was a well woman. Now she does all her work, does the cooking and looks after the children just as she did before she got sick and never has an ache nor a pain."

"I honestly believe Tanlac is the best medicine made, and I never let an opportunity slip to speak a good word for it."

BULLET EMBEDDED IN HIS HEART, STILL LIVES

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 27.—James Freeman, of this city, has a bullet in his heart and is still alive. He told the police he was shot by his wife, from whom he had been separated, when he returned home after he is said to have threatened her. She met him at the door and fired point blank, the bullet striking him in the left breast. He walked to the police station, nearly three miles away, where medical attention was given him. He was removed to a hospital and an X-ray taken, which showed the bullet nestling in the heart.

PAYING FREAK BETS

In every campaign there are people who make bets which require the losers to do all sorts of ridiculous things. Many of these bets are now being carried out. Wilfred Dean of Elizabeth City, N. C., made a wager on Cox and as a result he had to roll a peanut thru 10 blocks of the principal streets of the city. Women who have lost bets have had to smoke cigars on the street and otherwise make even bigger fools of themselves than they were by nature.

An Appeal

To the Republicans of the Country and All Those Who Aided Them:

The Republican success in the 1920 election has been commensurate with the quality of our candidates and the righteousness of our cause.

This success is the partnership accomplishment of all Republicans everywhere and of hundreds of thousands of well-wishers of good government regardless of past party affiliations.

To all of these we now appeal, because it is the mutual responsibility of us all who will share alike in the consequent mutual benefit of good government.

The plan of limiting campaign contributions to $1,000, adopted by your national organization, has left your party unmortgaged.

It has been a most advanced step in placing the business of politics on the highest plane, and has brought an interest on the part of thousands who never before have been concerned with politics.

Some weeks before election it was apparent that the expenses provided for in our budget, with the strictest economy, would exceed the contributions, but we were unwilling either to leave undone any legitimate effort essential to complete success or to change the method of raising money. We were then sure and we are now sure that every Republican desires that the expenses of the campaign be distributed in this manner.

Your presidential campaign this year cost no more than that of 1916, when a dollar went nearly twice as far as it does today.

Four years ago the bulk of the campaign fund came from 750 contributors, while this year the approximately $2,000,000 contributed to date for the presidential election has come from 50,000 givers.

The victory won, the raising of the deficit would be easy, indeed, if your committee were willing to abandon the policy of keeping down the average of contribution. This we are determined not to do. It was a fight of all the people. The result speaks for itself. It lifted a burden from the minds of millions and points the way to better and happier days. We ask now for that additional help from all which is merited both by the successful conclusion of the effort and by the consequent contribution to the welfare of all of our people and the glory of the nation.

Let us now have help from every American who is grateful for the victory and all that it means to the country. It might well be in the nature of a thanksgiving offering for the return to a certainly safe, sane, constitutional progressive government.

Let us by general and generous giving put the seal of approval upon the policy of putting a national administration in power free from any possible embarrassment of special obligation to any man, men or group of men. Let us make the contribution, whether large or small, and whether or not we have heretofore given, commensurate with our means and our appreciation, always within the maximum limit heretofore fixed.

Let us get our names on the cornerstone of a sturdier political structure, upon the roll of those who have helped make possible a campaign of which, in methods and result, we may as Republicans and patriots be justly proud.

Most earnestly we urge that this aid be given quickly, that your committee may be enabled to discharge the party's obligations and turn to further constructive work in behalf of party and country.

TAX LAWS TO REMAIN UNTIL AFTER MARCH

Republicans Make Study of Subject Framing Program For Special Session.

Washington, Nov. 17.—In the opinion of Senator Penrose, Chairman of the Finance Committee, communicated to Senatorial colleagues here and to influential members of the Ways and Means Committee, no attempt should be made to repeal the excess profit tax or amend the revenue laws until the special session of Congress, which President-elect Harding has announced that he will call soon after March 4.

Senator Penrose said that in his opinion anything that might be done by the Republican Congress along these lines would probably be vetoed by President Wilson, and, therefore, it would be a waste of time for the Republicans to attempt to carry into effect party policies during the final months of the Wilson Administration.

"It may be wise not only to repeal the excess profits tax, but to simplify tax forms for the calendar year 1920," said Senator Penrose, "but I do not believe that the consensus of opinion in Congress would favor undertaking the repeal of any taxation schedules until the Republicans enter into full control of the Government. I myself favor simplification of the tax forms so that the taxpayer can know what he has to report. I hope that we may do this before the taxpayers are required to make the 1920 report."

Senator Penrose further indicated that no advantage could be gained by repealing the excess profits tax at the coming session, as Congress undoubtedly would not favor repealing the tax for the calendar year 1920 and there was sufficient time to repeal it at the special session, when other features of the revenue law would be considered and general revision might be undertaken.

There is such a demand from business men for repeal of the excess profits tax, supplemented by the recommendations of Treasury officials, that there is reason to believe that Congress will not delay action until the whole subject of tax revision can be undertaken. It is the opinion of those concerned with taxation matters that this tax will be repealed early in the special session so that the tax need not be collected for 1921. This must be done in the summer of 1921, or according to Secretary Houston, it will be necessary to collect the tax for that calendar year.

What is puzzling the authorities is how to find a substitute for this tax. There is no argument against its repeal. In the Ways and Means Committee last session, R. C. Leffingwell, then Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, suggested that the income tax might be increased to provide revenues coming from excess profits. This view was opposed by the committee, which was nearly ready to accept a tax on sales and real estate transfers. Many object to a sales tax.

Another suggestion is to repeal the profits tax without trying to supply another source of revenue to take its place. In such a case the expenditures of Government must be reduced to a minimum. If this is done, it is argued, there will be sufficient revenue to meet ordinary expenses of Government, but not to redeem the Treasury certificates and Victory notes in 1923, amounting in all to about $8,000,000,000.

Some financial experts hold that these obligations should not be redeemed, but should be refunded into long-term bonds and canceled in fifteen years, when the condition of the Government will be such as to carry out the transaction without putting such a burden on present-day taxpayers.

Different schools of financiers will undoubtedly come into conflict when the subject of tax revision comes up in Congress. Underlying the differences, however, is the general agreement that the excess profits tax must be repealed. The struggle will come over whether a substitute tax is necessary or whether the present situation can be taken care of by extending the period of indebtedness maturity.

JAPAN WILL NEVER FIGHT THE U. S.

In a special article in a Japanese newspaper Viscount Kaneko, president of the American-Japan society, declared there would never be a war between the United States and Japan for the reason that neither could accomplish anything. First, he asserts that the United States could never land a single man on the soil of Nip-pon, which has never been invaded in all history, though two unsuccessful attempts were made by the Mongolians long before Japan had developed the national strength she has today.

If Japan succeeded in landing marines in San Francisco, he said, it would be impossible to transport the millions of men that would be necessary to support them or the supplies to support the men. The writer pointed out that even if Japan took San Francisco and part of the Western Coast, the United States would not be greatly hurt and "quite possibly New York and Washington would pay little attention to such a trivial incident."

The viscount declared that the Japanese are grateful for what the Americans did in the time of Commodore Perry who forced the opening of Japan to the world, and that they have no grudge against Americans in spite of the fact that an anti-Japanese agitation has grown up in California and has terminated in taking away from the Japanese leasehold and land-ownership rights.

The heavy majorities in California in favor of the restricting measures in the recent election caused little comment in Japan for reason that the result was foreseen and discounted. The question is the subject of prolonged discussions between the ambassadors of Japan and the United States.

COST OF WIVES INCREASED

In Burma where the bridegroom must purchase his bride from his father-in-law, usually on the installment plan, a concerted protest has been made by the young men of the country against the high prices. Not only does it take the young man years to pay for his wife, but if he in the meantime displaces his father-in-law the later may take back his daughter and sell her to some other man. American missionaries in the country have been trying to secure the abolition of the custom of paying for wives, or at least to get the charges reduced.

KEEP WOMEN'S VOTES SEPARATE IS DEMAND

Some of the interests that have been fighting woman suffrage have demanded that in counting the votes in all the elections the women's ballots should be kept distinct from the men's. They want to make the point that if the 19th amendment should later be held invalid by the supreme court, the votes of the ladies would be thrown out and the results might be changed. Of course this is all hosh.

NEGROES CHARGE ELECTION VIOLENCE

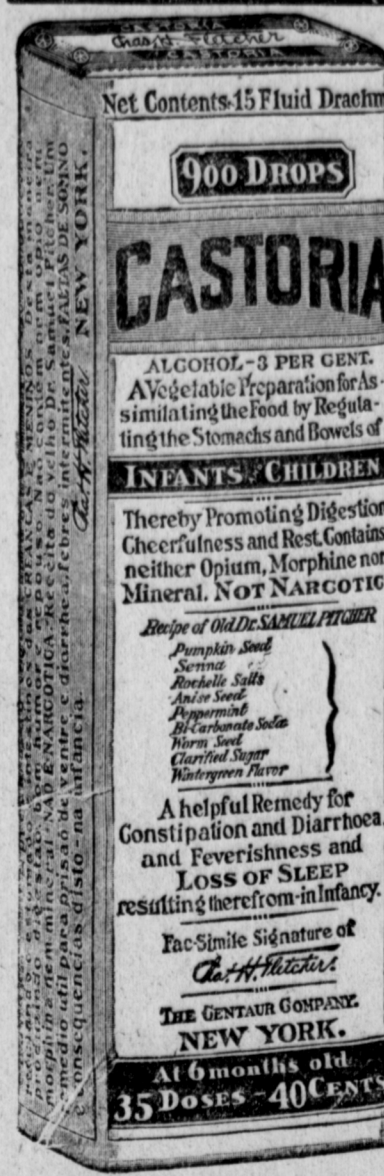

The department of justice has been asked by negro organizations throughout the country to investigate the killing of from 30 to 60 negroes in election riots in Florida and the state-wide terrorization of voters. They claim that sufficient evidence of violence, fraud and illegality is available to disqualify the entire vote of Florida in the recent election. It is requested that an investigation also include Alabama, Georgia and other Southern states. Letters to the Pathfinder and to every newspaper show that men and women in the South who wanted to vote Republican were opposed in every possible way. Even ex-soldiers were excluded on technical objections. The election machinery is in the hands of the Democrats, and it requires very little ingenuity to shut out an undesirable. However, "it is a condition and not a theory" that has to be faced in the South, and the general sentiment is that the peculiar problems of that section had best be left to be worked out by the people there in their own way. So there will be no real interference by the federal government, and whatever abuses exist will be winked at. Where wrongs are done, they will in good time bring their penalty.—Pathfinder.

PLAN TO CLIMB MT. EVEREST

Mt. Everest in the Himalayas, 29,000 feet high, stands well above the other lofty peaks in the world. No one has ever come within 10,000 feet of its summit but plans are now being made for a British expedition which, it is hoped, will succeed in reaching the topmost pinnacle.

Great mountain peaks as well as the sources of rivers and other natural features are regarded by the Hindus as sacred. For this reason they will not permit Europeans to approach Everest thru their territory. The expedition therefore will have to take the more roundabout route thru Tibet, which is now open.

The greatest difficulty anticipated in the ascent is breathing the rarefied air high above the general level of the earth. To be sure aviators have flown at altitudes far above the peak of this mountain but they were not obliged to put forth any muscular ef-

ONE CARTOON IRREVERENT.

A good deal of stir was caused just before the election, when many papers reprinted a cartoon that had been featured in Harvey's Weekly. This cartoon made reference to President Wilson's worshipping Article X as the "sacred heart" of the league covenant, and it also brought in the "immaculate conception." The irreverent dragging of religious subjects into politics in this way aroused the indignation of many people and especially of the Catholics. For a time it looked as if the incident might prove to be another "Burchard" affair and that it might possibly swing enough votes to give the election to Cox. A. A. Ryan, a wealthy Catholic who had been supporting Harding, not only declared he would vote for Cox but he gave $25,000 to the Democratic campaign fund. Senator Harding and Chairman Hays issued statements repudiating the cartoon and disclaiming any responsibility for it. There was no indication in the returns that the incident had any influence on the voters, as strong Catholic centers like Boston went strongly Republican.

FRIDAY.....DECEMBER 3

If the worst should ever happen to us and we should be landed in jail, you may wager that we are not going to indulge in any such tom-foolery as going on a hunger strike.

The two votes, those of Haiti and Santo Domingo, that Cousin Frankie Roosevelt carried in his vest pocket and which he contemplated voting in the League of Nations are liable to become yellow with age, and perhaps moth eaten before he gets a chance to use them.

The making of woman the equal of man in the use of the ballot did not deprive the male of the species of the right to continue to carry home the bacon, cut the kindling, fetch the coal and do a thousand other little things formerly in his sphere and allotted line of activities.

Charles Garland, of New York, has refused to accept a Million Dollars, legally and regularly inherited from his deceased father, on the grounds that he had done nothing to merit it. This man could commit almost any sort of legal offense or crime and be cleared on short order, upon a plea of mental incapacity, in the Courts of the land.

The payment of taxes is one duty
the greater number of us would apparently, like very much to shirk.
Somehow, we imagine that we pay entirely too much and get too little in return. That may be true in many cases, doubtless it is frequently the fact, although those who have to do with the spending of money collected in taxes almost invariably do the best they can, according to the circumstances under which they labor and with which they are beset. If it is really a fault, it is not due to personal graft, or a desire to misapply, but almost entirely to long years of custom. A channel, like a habit is exceedingly hard to get away from, the beaten path is most often traveled. We have a habit of grumbling when we pay our taxes and the grumbling habit is continued into the expending of the funds, somehow it just naturally comes. Since our earliest recollection it has been the fashion and we dare say it is to remain with us for long years to come.
We do not stop to consider and to meditate upon the subject, or else some of us might perhaps cease our grumbings and do our utmost to lend a helping hand-boost where we invariably knock. Without the fruits of taxation we could have nothing in the way of public advantages. The road system, the poor it may appear, could not exist; schools could not be thought of, nor churches, none would exist within our land,
not because the collection of funds is enforced for religious advancement and maintenance, but simply because the contributions are voluntary, it is taxation nevertheless, self-imposed, and, it being a matter left practically with each individual it not infrequently happens that those who are financially best able to bear the burden, pay the least or merely nothing. In the payment of taxes for general purposes it is a god-send that those who are able can be made to bear their share—the man with means is the individual, in most cases, who is reaping the benefits, if any are to be derived and there can be no doubt as to benefits, tho they may not always be commensurate with the apparent cost, to our manner of thinking. To illustrate just what we have in mind, as to the general idea of taxation and the spending of the funds: Two or three men were discussing in our presence, a few days ago, what they termed the enormous increase in their taxes within the past few years. One stated that he had just settled with the sheriff and that he paid more than ever before, something like double the sum paid four or five years ago and that he owned the very same property, that is the same land, no more nor less, except he had maybe, increased the amount of his personal belongings in cattle, horses, farming implements and such things a few hundred dollars. We ventured to ask the man what he had paid for his property and upon receiving the information we then inquired as to the probable sale value of it at the present date, when he replied that he had refused an offer of more than double its original cost to him. This, too, was brought about for the most part by simply increasing in value along with other farm land and was not due to any particular improvements placed upon the land by the owner. Was he hurt by the increase in taxes? Before these gentlemen departed they started a conversation about working their teams upon some public road improvement, over near Barnett's Creek, on the Owensboro road. One stated that he had received as high as $7.50 per day for himself and team, that price was paid for pulling a wheel scraper, I think he stated, and that the price for general team work was $6.00 per day. We said to him, that he certainly did a lot of work to get that price. "No," he said, "not any more than when I used to get $1.50 and $2.00 a day."

He kicked when his taxes formerly paid were multiplied by two, but it was perfectly agreeable when the amount formerly received, for his team was multiplied by three and four. What we started out to say is really all in the last few lines above. Every thing the County purchases and uses is up in proportion to team hire. The point, if any herein, ought to be easily discovered.

LODGE AND PENROSE CONFER FOR HOUR

Philadelphia, Nov. 27. —Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, who had a speaking engagement here tonight, called on Senator Penrose at the latter's home today, being one of the few visitors that have seen the Pennsylvania senator in some weeks. The senators were together for an hour. Senator Lodge said he found Senator Penrose in good condition, but advised him against taking chances of going to Washington for the coming short session of Congress in view of the fact that only appropriation bills are expected to be taken up.
Senator Penrose also received newspaper men for the first time in six weeks on condition that state and national politics would not be discussed. "I am feeling fine," said the senator, "better now than at any time during the past few months. Next week I expect to be attending to my usual business." It is just a year since Senator Penrose was taken ill at Washington.

"GONE UP SALT RIVER."

It is frequently said of a defeated candidate that "he has gone up Salt river." Salt river is a small shallow stream in Kentucky. Years ago a man ran for office in that locality

STRAY STREAKS

(By Fluke McFluke.)

Eck Rial says that if the new boy at his house follows in the footsteps of his dad he will nearly make a preacher, if he does not succeed altogether, to which we simply said bosh, shucks.

Speaking of Eck Rial's new boy baby, it looks like Eck was determined to start the young fellow out in life under a handicap he went and dubbed him Albert, for a first name.

The readers of the Central City
Argus have our sympathy and heartfelt condolences since we notice that I. D. Claire's Beads Oddly Strung have bobbed up in that otherwise respectable and much read sheet.

Speaking of those oddly corded beads, what we would like to know is, what keeps the rotten things on a string nohow? or anyways? It's not true, but we know exactly what Mister I. D. Claire thinks and will probably say, viz: that we occupy the position of the fabled fox to the grapes he so longingly lamped high-up in that there bush in that 'air thicket.

Of all the selections of adaptable and fitting characters to do turns in the Womanless Wedding, or any other show or entertainment in, or upon the earth, or elsewhere, none so appropriate was ever before made as that of Mut Hunter and his 265 pounds of beef, blood and bone to do the tiny, little, yellow curled "flower girl" in that All-Man Wedding. The only thing this pretty and dainty little Sophronia did to mar her perfectly beautiful scenery 'neath her yellow curls and pink ribbon, was to wink coyly some three or four times at rough looking boys in the galleries.

DENTAL NOTICE.

Now is the time to have your Dental work attended to. Winter is coming with rain and snow which makes old teeth ache and abscess. Abscess-ed Teeth or "Gum Boils" are dangerous. You are continually swallowing this deadly poisoned pus. Each mouthful of food carries this infection into the stomach. It lowers vitality which invites cancer of the theria, Tuberculosis, Pneumonia, Influenza, Typhoid, Brights Disease, rheumatism, Anemia and even death frequently results from continually swallowing pus.

A mouth containing decayed teeth is a poisonous laboratory, which sends a host of bacteria into the elementary tract. They multiply rapidly thus gain access to the lymphatic system and are carried to the distant organs.
Soft spongy and bleeding gums give

Pre-War Prices

NOW AT

Beaver Dam Coal Compay's Stores

In the past 30 days the manufacturers have made big reductions in their prices which we have been expecting them to do for some time. During the time that their prices were high, we bought in small quantities; then when the manufacturers did make this big reduction in prices we found our shelves practically empty. In the last week we have bought our merchandise at these reduced prices, therefore, this enables us to sell you your dry goods, shoes, clothing, furniture, and groceries at pre-war prices.

Pre-war prices are lower prices than any discount
you will be offered on goods.

On Friday, December 10th, Santa Claus will have his goods in our stores ready for your selection. You will see in our stores on December 10th, the most complete line of Xmas Goods you have ever seen before; something for the whole family.

Farmers, we want to buy hay, corn, butter, eggs and other produce which you may have to sell.

TWO DAYS

Farmers' Institute

For Ohio County to be Held at
The Court House

HARTFORD, KY.

On Friday and Friday Night, Dec. 10th, and Saturday, Dec. 11th, 1920

There will be held in the Court House, a real, live, Farmers' Institute.
For some reason or other these Institutes died out some time ago, but due to the foresight and longheadedness of our present Commissioner of Agriculture, Mr. W. C. Hanna, who is himself a practical farmer, they have been revived, and Ohio County can indeed thank the State Department for being let in on this one.

You will remember the Chautauqua held summer before last at Beaver Dam, which was backed by the Kentucky Bankers' Ass'n., and others? This is along the same lines, only gotten up by the State and assisted by various members of the Experiment Station Staff, and others.

These men and women are some of the most prominent in the Country along their particular lines; and the State Department is confident that these speakers can do a great deal to help Farmers with their problems if they will come to the meetings. Ladies are especially invited to hear the talks on Home Subjects and Childrens' problems.

The two meetings are to be all-day sessions, and Friday night there will be a very good program of about two hours. No farmer in Ohio County can afford to miss these meetings, use YOUR telephone. Tell YOUR neighbor, stop BY and see that he or she comes along. Remember this is FREE, no admission and no collections, the State is paying these men and women to give you this message, won't you spend your TIME to hear them? Look for the program on another page in this paper.

M. L. McCRACKEN, County Agent.

Some Prices Are Gradually Being Lowered. And This is What This Store is Doing to Help:

Without any great noise or publicity, and regardless of the cost to this store and the loss to it, we are giving to our patrons at once the advantages of a changing wholesale market. And this regardless of the fact that such wholesale quotations have not in the least affected the cost to us of the merchandise in our store, which, of course, was bought months prior to its sale.

This is no special sale. It is simply a reduction in the prices of merchandise affected by present wholesale conditions. For instance: You can count upon this store to continue to faithfully fulfill its promises of service, and to sacrifice, if necessary for the benefit of its patrons.

You can depend upon this store to meet its responsibility of providing the best merchandise at prices that are the lowest the market conditions warrant—lower than you will find them in a majority of cities.

FARM DEPARTMENT.

How Much Meat and Eggs Should Be Given a Child.

In some families children do not get enough meat and eggs; in others they get too much. A good general rule commonly followed is to give a child 2 years' old or over an egg every other day, and about the same amount (2 ounces) of meat, fish, or poultry on intervening days. If for any reason these are omitted from the child's diet, special care must be taken to see that other suitable foods take their place—preferably an extra amount of milk.

Broiling and roasting are the best methods of preparing tender meat for a child. Tough meat should be stewed or prepared in a fireless cooker or first chopped and then broiled. It is important to teach children to chew meat and other foods properly.

Fried meats, particularly those pan fried or cooked in a small amount of fat, should not be given to young children, say nutrition specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. One reason for this is that fried meats are apt to be overcooked and tough, at least on the outside, and so are likely not to be properly chewed. Another reason is that the fat used in frying as well as that which fries out of the meat, is likely to be scorched and changed in composition. When this is the case, it is almost certain to be harmful.

Corn Relish Easy to Make

If the frost has spared a few ears of green corn in your garden, it wouldn't be amiss to put them into corn relish. The following recipe for it is recommended by household specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture:

Corn Relish.

- 1 small cabbage
- 1 large onion.
- 6 ears of corn.
- 2 tablespoons of salt.
- 2 tablespoons of flour.
- ¾ cup of sugar.
- 2 hot peppers.
- 1 pint of vinegar.
- 1½ tablespoons of mustard.

Steam the corn for 30 minutes, if necessary, otherwise only until tender. Cut from the cob and add to the chopped cabbage, onion and peppers. Mix the flour, sugar, mustard, and salt together, and add the vinegar. Add this mixture to the vegetables and simmer for 30 minutes. Pour into jars or bottles, which have been thoroughly boiled, and seal while hot.

Beginners are urged to keep but one variety or breed of fowls. There is no best breed of poultry. Select the breed that suits your purposes best.

Efficient Use of Heater Keeps Down Coal Bills.

Too much coal is burned by the average household in heating his house, say engineers in the Division of Rural Engineering, Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, who have recently completed a study of how to heat the farmhouse efficiently. That too much coal is burned is due primarily studies show, to lack of knowledge of how to regulate the heater. It is not enough to install a heater, fill the bins with coal, and then expect it to heat the house properly. The first season after installing a heater should be devoted to a study of fuels and their burning in the particular heater.

Some of the things in general which the engineers who have been in charge of this work advise the furnace operator to look after if he wishes to heat his home comfortably with a minimum amount of coal are: Be sure the chimney is large enough for the size of the house and, if possible, have it straight up and down with a lined round flue. Study the dampers and use them intelligently in regulating the flue. Experiment with different kinds of coal until the best kind or the best mixture for your special heater is found. Do not leave ashes in the ash pit; clean them out each time after shaking. Insulate pipes and warm-air ducts; it saves heat. Maintain, if possible, a humidity between 40 and 50 per cent moist air heats more quickly and is much more healthful.

What To Do For Flock When Attacked By "Scaly Leg."

Two species of itch mites attack fowls, one of which is the cause of scaly leg. While this mite commonly remains on the feet, burrowing through the scales and causing their enlargement, it also attacks the comb and the neck. A crust of loose tissue is formed above the burrows and intense itching results from this mining habit. When scaly leg is left untreated the feet of the birds often become badly distorted, and in some cases the fowl can scarcely walk or get up to the perch. Sometimes terminal joints of the toes are lost. As the mites are transferred from one bird to another, scaly-leg fowls should be treated promptly and should not be introduced among clean birds. Investigations made under the supervision of the United States Department of Agriculture show that carbolineum or crude petroleum used on the roosts doubtless will aid in preventing the spread of the scaly-leg mite from one fowl to another. Applying crude petroleum to the legs with a brush or dipping the legs into this oil is very effective. One application usually is sufficient, but if the scales are not largely shed off after a lapse of 30 days the treatment should be repeated. Kerosene oil is applied by some farmers in the same way, but is less effective than crude oil. In using either, care should be taken not to get the oil on the upper part of the leg or on the feathers. A less severe but more laborious treatment consists of soaking the feet in warm soapsuds until the scales are loosened and then greasing the feet and legs with sulphur and lard, or lard containing 6 per cent crude carbolic acid.

The other itch mite, commonly called the depluming mite, is very small creature which burrows into the skin near the base of the feathers. The intense itching sometimes causes the fowls to pull their feathers until they are almost naked. Dipping of all fowls of an infested flock in a tub of water containing about 2 ounces of flowers of sulphur and one-half ounce of laundry soap to each gallon of water will give complete control. The fowls should be completely submerged and the feathers ruffled so all parts of the body will be reached by the liquid. Care should be taken to keep the dip stirred during treatment so as to keep the sulphur in suspension. In case a flock has lice as well as the depluming mite, three-fourths ounce or one heaping tablespoonful of sodium fluorid should be added to each gallon of water in the foregoing mixture.

Surgeons agree that in cases of Cuts, Burns, Bruises and Wounds the First Treatment is most important. When an efficient antiseptic is applied promptly, there is no danger of infection and the wound begins to heal at once. For use on man or beast, Borozone is the Ideal Antiseptic and Healing Agent. Buy it now and be ready for an emergency. Price 25c, 50c, $1.00 and $1.50. Sold by Ohio County Drug Co.

SQUARE NICKLES COINED

For the first time in her history Australia is issuing nickel coins, and with the new metal is an innovation in shape. The coins are square with slightly rounded corners. This form was adopted for two reasons; they can be cut cheaper from the metal sheet, and they stack better. Square coins are not new; they have long been used in the settlements of the Far East.

MORE RADIUM LOST.

It is strange that patients should be so careless about protecting the extremely valuable mineral radium which is used on their person in attempted cures. The second case of this nature has come to notice. A woman patient in a Utica hospital who was being treated for cancer became irritated with the radium on the diseased spot, took off the bandage containing it and threw it away. The radium, which is valued at $13,000, is being hunted in the sewers about the hospital.

WILSON'S FAREWELL.

Industry is now going thru the settling process incidental to getting back to a normal basis a process which involves some phases that are disagreeable and to some extent alarming. The Pennsylvania Railroad System during the last month has dismissed about 10,000 employees and several other roads have reduced their working forces. The rubber tire industry, which was hard hit by the policy of the Federal reserve board in discouraging loans for lines of business classed as unessential, continues to curtail its operations and about 50,000 of its former employees work. From various parts of the country have come reports of factories going on short time or shutting down entirely.—Washington Post.

FORMER KAISER WILL DIVIDE HIS ESTATE

London, Nov. 27.—During visits of his children at Doorn Castle during the past week, former Emperor William of Germany, has taken occasion to discuss with them their financial resources, says a Doorn dispatch to the Daily Mail.

It is said the former emperor intends to present each of his children £85,000 in Dutch money, "so they may continue to live in a manner befitting the Hohenzollerns."

GET MORE BUTTER

Mrs. Hattie Meece, of Glenn, Missouri, says: "I was not making enough butter from my cow's milk production for a family of two. After using Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders a short time, she gave half a gallon more milk a day, and a pound of butter a day."

Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders give to milk cows just what is needed to keep the digestive organs in proper condition, so that they get the most possible good from their feed. Give equally wonderful results when used for horses, hogs, and sheep, because they are a tonic, appetizer and worm expeller.

It matters not what ailment you may have among your stock or poultry, it will pay you to get the proper Dr. LeGear Remedy from your dealer. They are the Doctor's personal prescriptions, compounded during his 28 years of Veterinary Practice and expert Poultry Breeding. They must satisfy you, or your dealer will refund your money.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA AMERICA FEEDING CHILDREN

According to the announcement of President Seitz the fuel and food condition of Austria "is generally worse than last year." Children under 16 years of age to the number of 30,000 are being fed by the American child-feeding fund. It is said that adults can recover in a few years from malnutrition, but the growing child that is underfed is rendered permanently weak and disabled. The American relief association has furnished 68,000,000 free meals in Austria in the last 16 months. Only four Americans are on the executive staff of his fund, the work being largely done by Austrian volunteers.

Do You Enjoy Your Meals?

If you do not enjoy your meals your digestion is faulty. Eat moderately, especially of meats, masticate your food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals and take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper and you will soon find your meals to be a real pleasure.

CALIFORNIA FORCES JAPANESE LAND ISSUE

As everyone knew would be the case, the voters of California voted strongly in favor of the law which aims to put a stop to the encroachments by the Japanese in their state. This law forbids any alien who is not eligible for citizenship—meaning of course the Japanese—to own or lease land, directly or indirectly. The government and people of Japan had been watching the outcome with great interest, but they also knew well enough that the law would be approved by the referendum. Negotiations are in progress between Washington and Tokyo looking to an amicable settlement of the whole Japanese controversy. The question is a big one and it has more than one side. Hot-bloods in both countries are talking about war, but the statesmen on both sides are too sensible to be carried away by any such criminal policy. Perhaps the worst comment on the situation is that while this country claims to be a Christian nation and is trying to Christianize Japan, our people are not willing to treat the Japanese in a Christian spirit when it comes to a concrete case. The harm that will be done to the Christian civilization is therefore far-reaching. Nevertheless, the Californians say that they are unable to hold their own against the industrious thrifty and wily Japanese, and as self-preservation is one of the first laws of nature we must expect that they will do something to protect themselves against this undoubted peril.

Chamberlain's Tablets.

These tablets are intended especially for indigestion and constipation. They tone up the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They act gently on the liver and bowels, thereby restoring the stomach and bowels to a healthy condition. When you feel dull, stupid and constipated give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased with their effect.

COMPRESSED AIR AS MEDICAL TREATMENT

A Kansas City, Mo., physician has devised a steel chamber to be used in treating certain classes of patients with compressed air. The chamber, 88 feet long and 10 feet in diameter is fitted up somewhat the same as a sleeping car, accommodations being provided for 72 persons. Patients spend from three to 12 hours daily in the chamber under air pressure of from five to 20 pounds, according to the condition of each. The treatment is said to quiet the nerves, promote sleep, stimulate the appetite and renew the store of energy.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA TALK OF SECESSION.

Resolutions were adopted by the Free State nationalist congress at Cape Town proclaiming their right to self-determination and their right to secede from the British empire or to break any existing bond of union with Great Britain. Opposition to a closer imperial union was declared. The resolution advised against taking a decisive step toward separation unless a majority of the people should have first expressed such a desire through a referendum.

FLY LARVAE IN SNAILS

Great numbers of house-flies die when winter sets in but enough survive always to insure large swarms of the pests the following summer. One way in which they go thru the winter, a French investigator has found, is in the larval stage in the bodies of snails. The larvae bore into the snails and kill them within a short time. Fifty snails were placed in jars in a moderately warm room and a considerable number of fly larvae emerged from nine of them.

YOU certainly want to save money, and you would like to have better bakings. Then use Calumet. It's the biggest thing you can do to improve the quality of your bakings—and lower baking costs. Calumet is made in the largest, most sanitary Baking Powder Factories in the World. No Baking Powder is made under better conditions—none can be better in quality. It contains only such ingredients as have been officially endorsed by the U. S. Pure Food Authorities. An absolute guarantee that it is pure.

RAISES THE QUALITY—LOWERS THE COST OF ALL BAKINGS

It received highest Awards, World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago—Paris Exposition, Paris, France—positive proof of its superior merit. It is used by more housewives and domestic scientists than any other brand. It is sold at a moderate price. All you have to do is to compare costs to determine how much you can save by buying Calumet. Gluten is the muscle building part of flour which is of great importance. To be sure you get it in your bakings use plain flour and good baking powder, (not self-rising flour).

Calumet Cream Cake Recipe
—3 cups pastry flour, 3 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, ¼ cup butter, ¼ cup granulated sugar, Yokes of 3 eggs, ¼ cup cold water, Whites of 3 eggs, 1 teaspoon orange extract. Then mix in the regular way.

Time Narrows Down to Hours End of This Great Pathe Phonograph Sale is in Sight

YOU CAN no longer put off, if you would take advantage of the opportunity this sale affords you, to own a perfectly wonderful phonograph and procure $25 worth of genuine Pathe records absolutely FREE.

This sale is virtually at an end.

Only four of the beautiful Pathe Phonographs, of which we had fifteen, remain.

Three or four days at the most, and the sale is over.

We believe it to be a truthful statement, when we say that this has been the most successful sale of its kind ever held in this vicinity.

It has done what we started out to do: It has demonstrated, conclusively, every point of superiority possessed by the Pathe Phonograph.

The people of this community have been quick to see the advantages of the indestructible Sapphire Ball as a means of playing a record in contrast with needles which scratch and wear out the records and have to be changed every time the record is changed.

So, come in at once. Make it a point to come in. To hear and know the Pathe Phonograph is well worth the time it takes. For sooner or later you will own a phonograph, and to know the Pathe is to want it in preference to all other makes.

The "Conditions of Sale" are identical with those prevailing in Boston, Chicago, New York, San Francisco, and every other metropolitan city where this sale is being held.

The Main Points of this Unusual Sale

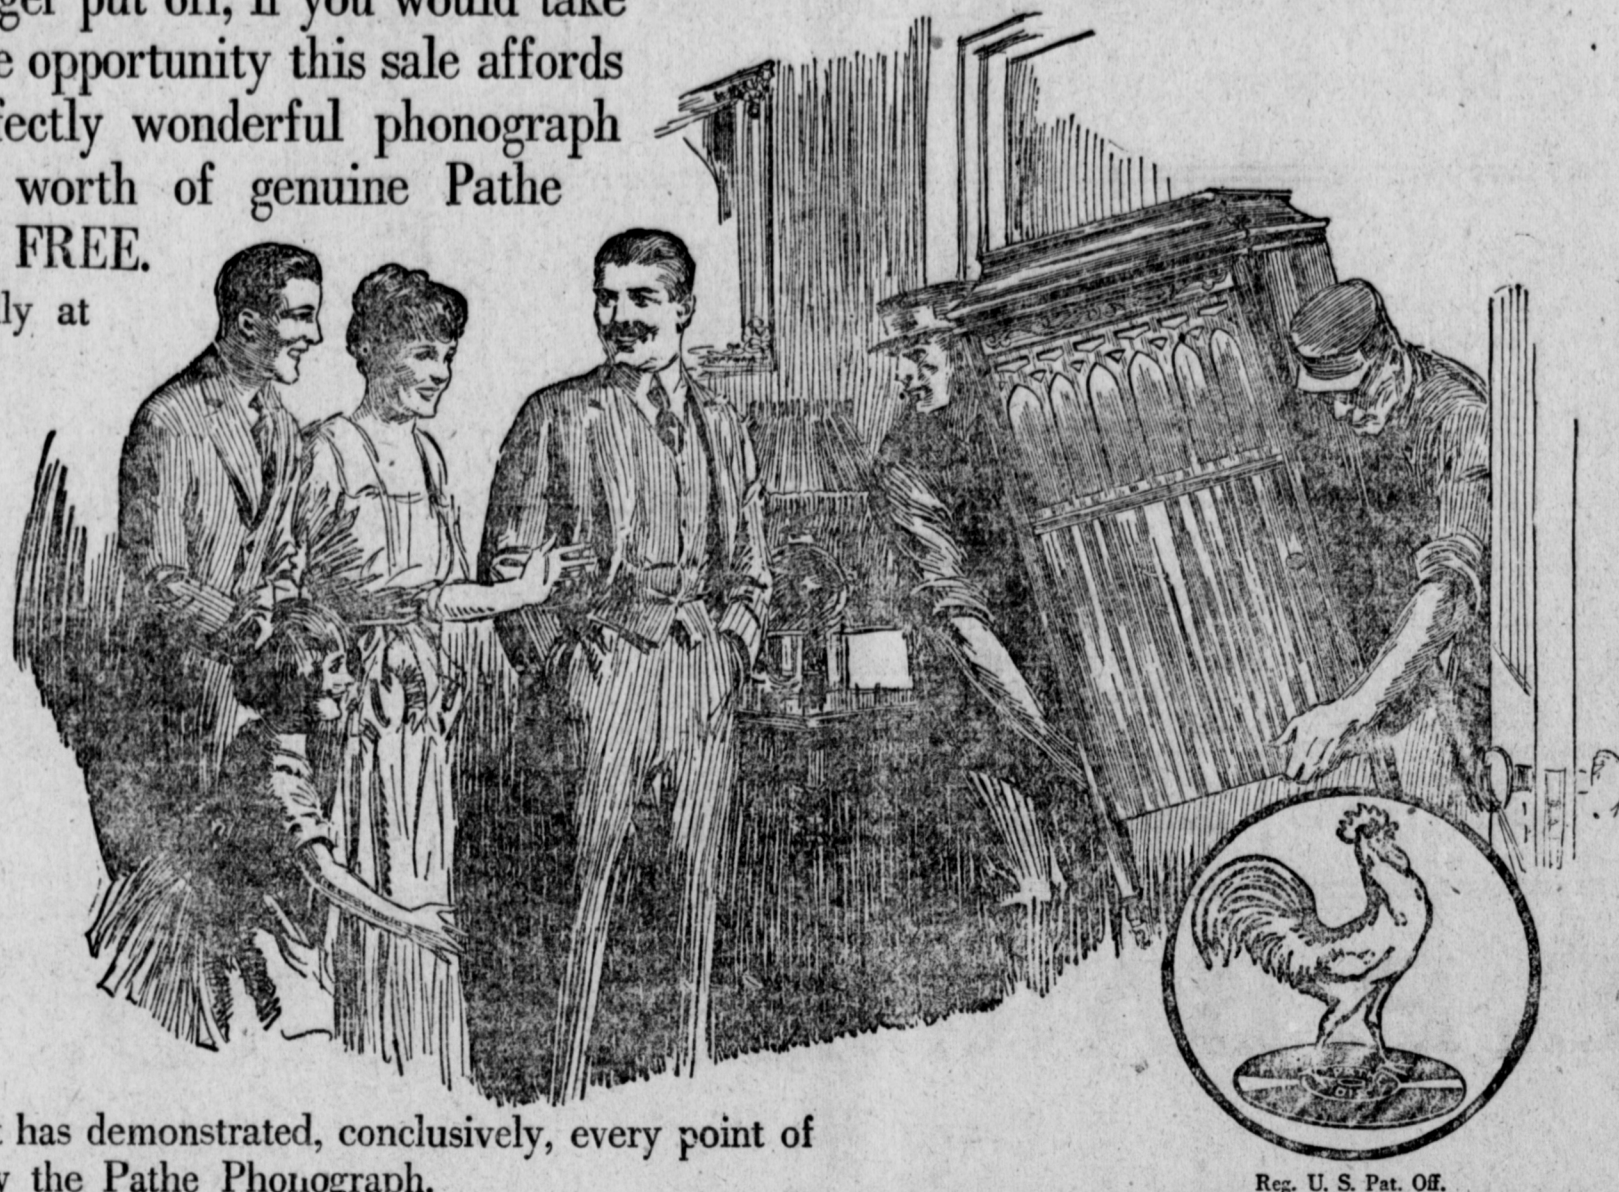

1. This is a co-operative nation-wide demonstration sale of Pathe Phonographs and Pathe Records.
2. The sale is one of approximately five hundred similar sales which are planned to be held in five hundred cities and towns of the United States.
3. The plan, advertising, price of the phonographs, and general conditions of sale are identical in every city and town where the sale will be held.
4. The reason back of this great nation-wide demonstration campaign is to better acquaint the public with the superiority of Pathe Phonographs and Pathe Records by letting the people see and hear them direct rather than to reach them indirectly through magazine advertising alone.
5. The entire outfit offered through this special demonstrating campaign consists of:
One genuine 1921 Pathe Phonograph, regular Model 10, as shown in cut.
One Universal tone arm and sound box for playing all makes of records.
One indestructible Pathe Sapphire Ball (full-tone), and one Pathe Sapphire Ball (half-tone), for playing Pathe Records.
$25 worth of genuine Pathe Records given Free.
One hundred steel needles.
6. The price for the full equipment is $150.
7. Your first or initial payment may be as little as best suits your convenience.
8. The balance you may spread out over a period of one year.
9. You may exchange the phonograph procured through this sale for any other higher priced Pathe Phonograph at any time within six (6) months and receive full allowance for every penny you have already paid.
10. Every Pathe Phonograph sold during this sale is guaranteed in writing for one (1) year, both the manufacturer and ourselves agreeing to replace any defective parts without charge should any appear within that time.

$25 Worth of Genuine Pathe Records FREE

Why you should own the Jeweled Pathe

There are five distinct and definite reasons why you should own the genuine jeweled Pathe in preference to all other phonographs. And this great nation-wide Demonstration Sale is to prove the superiority of these points, beyond the question of a doubt.

- 1st. Because the full, clear tone of each individually toned instrument is reproduced by the pure tone chamber and the famous Pathe Sapphire Ball. The music flows from the records. It isn't scratched off.
- 2nd. Because there are no needles to change on the genuine Pathe. The Sapphire Ball never wears out, neither does it wear out the records.
- 3rd. Because the Pathe plays all makes of records, and plays them with more natural and lifelike tone than any other Phonograph. The entire wealth of music of the phonograph world is available to you, if you own the Pathe.
- 4th. Because the Pathe is always ready to play. Just slip on a record and the Pathe is ready.
- 5th. Because the Pathe Controlla enables you to play any record loudly or softly with the same Sapphire Ball.

Yet the Pathe Costs no more than the ordinary Phonograph

Tear this out, fill in and mail to us at once.

Without any obligation whatsoever on my part, you may send me photographs and other descriptive matter of the Pathe Phonograph you are offering upon special terms. Also send photographs of the Pathe Actuelle Model you are offering at $250.

FARMERS' WEEK.

Lexington, Kentucky, November 27.—Farmers' Week will be held at the College of Agriculture at Lexington, Ky., the first four days in February. This meeting will be bigger and better in every way than previous years. All phases of agriculture will be presented by men who are able to speak with authority, and various livestock associations will be given an opportunity to have a special section in which they can take up subjects dealing with their own particular problems and the beef cattle breeders and swine breeders will have a banquet the evening of their meeting.

One phase of farmers' week that will be especially interesting at this time will be the four day Tractor School, at which time the subject of tractors, the need farmers may have for them, the work that can be expected of a tractor, the methods of care, etc., will be ably discussed and after each lecture the farmers will be given an opportunity to see exactly what the lecturer has been discussing by having 8 or 10 makes of tractors at this school for demonstration purposes. It is a well-known fact that most tractor troubles are caused by ignorance on the part of the operator and it will be the purpose of this school to so familiarize the farmers with their tractors that it will help them eliminate many of these troubles, which cause loss of time and very often heavy repair bills.

The Home Economics section will have a regular program throughout the four days for the ladies. This meeting will be held in the Little Theatre, the same as last year, and all phases of homemaking will be ably discussed with suitable demonstrations as to means of saving time and labor.

Work will be given farmers' week in the following subjects; home economics, farm management, marketing, beef cattle, sheep, hogs, poultry, horticulture, plant diseases, soils, crops and tractors.

Since all phases of agriculture will be discussed and since this meeting is entirely for the farmers of the State of Kentucky, no one can afford to miss this opportunity of hearing the best speakers present their subjects as well as seeing the demonstrations.

CROP HOLDING MOVEMENT HELD NOT UNLAWFUL

Washington, Nov. 27.—Because farmers' co-operative organizations are exempt from application of anti-trust laws, the Department of Justice has given no consideration to the campaign for the withholding of crops from the markets until prices advance, it was said tonight by Frank K. Nebeker, special assistant to the attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions.

Mr. Nebeker's explanation of the department's attitude followed the recent statement of Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' Union, that he understood that federal agents were attempting to obtain evidence for prosecutions in Kansas, Iowa, and other middle Western States.

The Clayton anti-trust act, Mr. Nebeker said, expressly provides that agricultural organizations, not having capital stock or conducted for profit, can not be construed as conspiracies in restraint of trade. Withholding of crops from market for personal profit, Mr. Nebeker asserted, probably would not be held as organization profits.

Should Be Quarantined.

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure—the sooner one rids himself of a cold the less the danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold.

"BUCKEYE" BROUGHT COOLIDGE GOOD LUCK

Ohio is the "Buckeye" state, and a buckeye is a sort of horse-chestnut. By carrying a buckeye in your pocket you are supposed to be cured of rheumatism, or almost any other 1sm. Many people also believe that it brings good luck. Some Ohioans sent Gov. Coolidge a buckeye to ward off rheumatism and bring him luck. He didn't have any rheumatism anyway, but something brought him luck in the election, and it may have been the buckeye.

SETTLES LAW CASE

BY FLIPPING COIN

Akron, O., Nov. 27.—By flipping a penny Common Pleas Judge W. J. Ahern broke a deadlock in connection with the settlement of a lawsuit.

Attorneys in the case declared the court's unusual procedure was a just one.

It was a damage suit. The claim was for $60. Judge Ahern advised the plaintiff and defendant to settle. Altho the defendant agreed to pay $50, the plaintiff held out for $60.

When he found neither side would budge, Judge Ahern informed the litigants of his plan for disposing of the controversy. Plaintiff and defendant agreed.

Taking a cent out of his pocket, Judge Ahern said:

"Heads, you (the defendant) pay $60, and tails you (the plaintiff) take $55."

The flipped coin fell upon a table heads up.

The defendant paid $60 and the court marked the case "settled."

MANY KILLED IN ELECTIONS

According to reports received in Havana 14 men were killed in the recent presidential elections. The killings resulted from clashes at the polls both in the capital and the provinces, extreme bitterness being developed in the race between Gomez and Zayas. The American minister was quoted as saying that if Gomez were elected New York bankers would not lend Cuba $50,000,000 which is desired, but that official emphatically denied the statement.

SIXTY PER CENT OF CADIZ FIRE LOSS INSURED

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 30.—Telephone messages today from Cadiz, state that the fire loss there last night approximately was $250,000, 60 per cent of which was insured.

Revised figures of losses on the dozen business houses destroyed place the value of the Turner-Wilkinson department store at $70,000 with $45,000 insurance. Value of the courthouse, also destroyed, was placed at $40,000.

TOURISTS TO EUROPE SHOULD TAKE MONEY

It is reported to the state department that many Americans going to Europe have found themselves stranded without sufficient money to return. These tourists have appealed to the American consuls abroad but they are powerless to aid them as there are no funds available for this purpose. The department warns travelers that they should take ample money to get back home on unless they want to take up their abode in starving Europe.

Fordson

The Ford Motor Company have just issued a book called "The Fordson at Work." This book is given free. Call in and get one. If you cannot call, write and we will mail you one without charge. It is not what the Ford Motor Company says about the Fordson Tractor but what the army of users have to say. This book voices the hardest kind of practical experience. It shows in illustration the Fordson Tractor at actual work along some ninety different lines of activity. It shows in these illustrations the wonderful versatility and utility of the Fordson Tractor. Shows it to be, beyond all question, the one bit of machinery that is a necessity, not only on the farm but along many lines of commercial business; especially does it show up the Fordson as a valuable servant on the farm. With it the farmer is relieved of the hard work; because he can take advantage of the weather in preparing his seed bed; he can do it at the right time; the same is true when it comes to harvesting. It solves, to a great extent, the problem of scarcity of labor.

With its wonderful, reliable power, it brings to the farm home all the conveniences, in the way of running water in the house, electric lights, operation of the washing machine, churning, separating the cream from the milk; it assumes and takes to itself the drudgery of farm life both in the field and in the house and it is only a matter of a few years until it will be as universal in its service on the farm as is the farmer himself. It will become a part of farm life; a beneficial part; a profitable part. Get order in for there's a rush coming.
